Connection between the Canadian and French Le Neuf Families

French Branch

Richard "Cardin" Le Neuf, not a noble, bachelor of law, m. Jeanette de Mannoury

Jean Le Neuf, not a noble, a tanner, m. —?— Porin

Jean Le Neuf, not a noble, m. Jeanne Bellot

Pierrot Le Neuf, seigneur of Vénoix et Montenay, Lieutenant du Vicomte de Caen (Judge of Minor Causes), m. Catherine Le Boucher

Pierrot Le Neuf, écuyer, seigneur of Vénoix, Montenay, and Courtonne, m. Marie de la Roque

Antoine Le Neuf, écuyer, seigneur of Vénoix, Montenay, and Courtonne, m. Marguerite de Haulendel

François Le Neuf, écuyer, seigneur of Sourdeval, Vénoix, and Montenay, m. Marguerite de Lafnerac

Gabriel Le Neuf, écuyer, seigneur of Sourdeval, etc. m. Louise-Marie du Noyer

Louis Bernardin Le Neuf, naval officer, chevalier in the Order of St-Louis, made count of Sourdeval in May 1764, m. Marie Jeanne Le Neuf (his niece), executed by guillotine, 10 May 1794, with Princess Elisabeth, the sister of King Louis XVI

Canadian Branch

Jean Le Neuf, le jeune, bourgeois de Thury, m. Marguerite Le Gardeur

Michel Le Neuf, seigneur d'Hérisson, bourgeois de Caen, m. Jeanne Le Marchand

Jacques Le Neuf, écuyer, sieur de la Poterie, m. Marguerite Le Gardeur

Maire Le Neuf m. Jean Godfrey, sieur de Lintot

These three siblings have descendants living in Canada and the United States of America.

Note: This genealogical table only shows some of the known members of the Le Neuf family in each generation. The purpose of this table is twofold: (1) to show the relationship between the key players in the family story; and (2) to demonstrate how the family morphed from being bourgeois to nobles. The designation écuyer (squire) was used to indicate that a person was noble. While many of the earlier generations on this chart bore écuyer in "Cabinet des titres" documents, other original documents make it clear that their descendants were assigning this label retrospectively to bolster their claims to nobility when they submitted their papers to the royal genealogist. When écuyer appears in between parentheses it means that the use of that title was not reflected in original documents or is otherwise questionable. For full details about the Le Neuf family consult the publications listed at http://habitant.org/leneuf.